Over 80 km of Lines & Trails – 9 Lifts – 7 Mountains

Austria's largest bike region!

Lines & trails as versatile as the three locations they connect. A mountain bike trail network with limits only set by your own physical condition and Alpine gravel routes that are hard to beat in their diversity. This is Austria's largest biking region!

The three resorts of Saalbach Hinterglemm, Saalfelden Leogang and Fieberbrunn have long since joined forces as the Skircircus in winter. In the summer of 2020, they combined and offered mountain and gravel bikers over 80 kilometres of lines and trails with 9 lifts on 7 mountains, a joint bike ticket and endless kilometres of gravel and asphalt trails for two-wheelers of all genres.

An unparalleled variety of trails

80 kilometres of lines & trails with one ticket! Flowing lines with exciting features, world championship-tested downhill trails in the Epic Bikepark Leogang and bumpy trails for technically experienced endurist riders make Austria's largest biking region the coolest playground in the Alps. However, the trail variety is not only reserved for hobby bikers and the international world elite. Beginners and mini-shredders should try out the new Learn to Ride Park in Saalbach, the Riders Playground, a 10,000 m² practice area in Leogang, and the Easy Park Obingliten in Fieberbrunn to gradually get to grips with the family-friendly trails.

Mountain biking without limits

The choice of the next tour depends solely on your own level of fitness, as the cross-border mountain bike trail network is almost limitless. In Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn, you will find a wide range of tours that can be individually tailored to your needs. Everyone is free to decide whether the next tour will be a leisurely round of Alpine pastures, a panoramic tour with the use of the lift or a challenging marathon. Whatever you choose, you can recharge the batteries and indulge in some refreshments in one of the numerous huts after a cool day out.

Gravel biking in the Alps

Gravel biking is much more of a lifestyle than a discipline. Whether touring, fast off-road laps on gravel roads and forest paths or leisurely exploration tours: gravel biking always promises a truly memorable experience. The region, so far largely known as a mountain bike destination, turns out to be an insider's tip for this trendsetting sport. But what distinguishes gravel bikers from road bikers? While with a road bike, you are confined to the asphalt roads, the somewhat less restrictive geometry and the profile of the tyres of a gravel bike mean freedom, riding fun, adventure, and the experience of nature away from the busy roads. Around Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn lies a true Alpine gravel road paradise with any number of different touring opportunities.

Endless scope

Austria's largest biking region offers thrilling biking experiences regardless. With the E-MTB boom, however, a completely different meaning is ascribed to this excitement. The charging stations on the mountain are ready for use, the rental shops have stocked up, and all mountain bike paths and trails are, of course, also accessible to E-Bikers with no limitations. Specially designated E-Bike routes are simply touring recommendations that are particularly suitable for E-mountain bikers. Stop, recharge, and continue cycling is the motto when you comfortably recharge your bike at a hut while taking a short break.

The offer is rounded off by biker-oriented services such as bike shops, rental, bike schools, guiding and practice areas for beginners. And bikers are also welcome guests in accommodation, restaurants, and huts.

News 2021

There is plenty to do in between the seasons! In 2021 there will again be new trails, improved infrastructure, and news about biking in Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn:

Learn to Ride Park in Saalbach

At the foot of the Kohlmaisbahn in Saalbach, a new Learn to Ride Park will open at the beginning of the biking season. On four "mini-lines", small versions of the Saalbach Hinterglemm trails, with a magic carpet and a circular course, mini-shredders and beginners can take their first attempts on constructed bike trails and improve their skills. With lengths between 180 and 340 metres, beginners can try their first bike experiments free of charge on gentle terrain, without the hurdle of having to descend a 2,000-metre mountain immediately.

Reconstruction of the Monti-Trail

The lower section of the Monti Trail will be rebuilt and will feature a modified route with beginner-friendly curves.

20th anniversary of the Bikepark Leogang

The Epic Bikepark Leogang is one of the most renowned bike parks in Europe. This summer, it celebrates its 20th anniversary. There is plenty to look forward to, as Saalfelden Leogang and the Bikepark Leogang have invested a total of more than one million Euros in the past two years and have thus considerably expanded the bike facilities. In 2020, the Riders Playground, a 10,000 m² practice area, was expanded with numerous new attractions. The Hot Shots fired by GoPro was converted into a massive jumpline and the 5,000 m² asphalt World Champs Pumptrack with jump and dirtline has become an actual "get together" venue with a real fun factor. In 2021, there will again be many new features.

New Downhill Line – Vali's Hölle

In October 2020, the UCI Mountain Bike Downhill and Cross-Country World Championships took place in the Leogang Bike Park for the second time. A new, natural, and technically challenging section created a lot of excitement at the downhill race. It went down in the history books as a result. From this summer on, this section is available to you as an independent downhill line for shredding! Just turn left before the 100% wallride on the Speedster and Flying Gangster and head into the forest.

Update Hot Shots fired by GoPro

The Hot Shots fired by GoPro was wholly transformed into a fat Jumphline in summer 2020. Based on the positive feedback we received, we are confident that the conversion was an "epic" success. In 2021 we are giving the Hot Shots an additional facelift. The entrance will be moved directly to the top station. This will make the line about 125 m longer, providing even more airtime! Please don't forget: The Hot Shots fired by GoPro is not a line for rookies - here, you need to have the right skills!

Reshape Hangman I

The Hangman I was given a complete reshape in autumn 2020 for even more riding fun.

Reshape Hangman II

The Hangman II will get a reshape in spring and will be redesigned in certain sections. The line will be optimised and have more flat and easy jumps for all levels.

Reshape Flow Link

In autumn 2020, the Flow Link was also reshaped, and various jumps were optimised. Depending on the choice of line, this freeride line can be ridden by all levels.

GoPro Bagjump Landingbag

In 2011, the first GoPro Bagjump replaced our Foam Pit. Since then, the Bagjump has been a fixed component of the Bikepark Leogang and is used also for training. In 2021 the GoPro Bagjump will be getting an upgrade. A new 15-metre landing bag, adapted to the landing angle, will ensure even more fun and safety from then on.

Lumberjack/Bikemovie reconstruction

In summer 2020, a slight modification of the Lumberjack Trail/Bikemovie was planned. However, during the construction work, the project became bigger and bigger. The result is really something to be proud of. Perfect drops, nice round lines and a wallride the size of a cinema screen! If you like, you can be filmed during the ride and watch the video directly at the Skiline Terminal at the valley station of the Asitzbahn or online and share it with friends.

Keep the Epic Bikepark clean

Epic biking enjoyment also means treating nature with respect. That is why the motto at Bikepark Leogang is "Keep the Epic Bikepark clean". For this reason, tear-off systems are not allowed. As a goodie, however, you get a replacement film for a roll-off system and a 10% voucher at Sport Mitterer for 100% roll-off goggles when you buy a ticket in rainy weather.

Knappentail in Saalfelden Leogang

Get ready for the Knappentail! It shares the entrance and exit with the well-known Schwarzleo trail, but otherwise, it snakes its way down the slope independently. Only sometimes does a quick glance to the right reveal its older brother. Like its fellow Schwarzleo, Forsthof and Matzalm trails, the Knappentail is a natural trail. This means that no heavy equipment is used in its construction, and only natural elements are used - pure manual labour.

Bike Area Fieberbrunn – Streuböden

One trail, two lines and a pump track. These are the new features awaiting bikers in Fieberbrunn this coming summer. Kids, newcomers and "pleasure trailers" alike will get their money's worth between the middle and valley station of the Streuböden gondola. Endurist riders now have even more route options to combine the most beautiful ups and downs in the Greater Region!

The new Schweinestberg trail (4 km/easy) from the middle station leads over a wooded mountain ridge back to the Streuböden valley station and offers plenty of enjoyment, fun and flow. After a short roll-in section, the trail branches off into the forest. North Shores, undulating passages, plenty of curves and wide lines will put a big grin on bikers' faces!

For those who have never been to a bike park before, or want to hone their technique, the Easy Park Obingleiten at the Streuböden valley station is the perfect place! On the two lines, you can perfect your bike control, and balance on 20 to 25 hairpin bends peppered with wooden elements. The converted tellerlift takes you comfortably to the top.

The new pump track offers endless fun. Ride in, pick up speed, "pump" over the waves and test the banking in the curves. For the smallest bikers, the greatest, for the pros, a welcome opportunity to warm up or work out.

Lines & Trail Highlights

From the legendary Hacklberg Trail in Saalbach Hinterglemm to the Speedster, the official downhill world championship course in the Epic Bikepark in Leogang. There is something to suit every taste here! Over 80 km of lines & trails on 7 mountains, perfectly accessible by 9 lifts in Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn: This is Austria's biggest bike region!

Saalbach Hinterglemm

Panorama-Trail

Another flowline? Yes, please! The Panorama Trail section, newly opened in 2019, has already become the favourite of all bikers. A 3 km long "downhill pump track" winds its way from the Panorama Alm to the middle station of the Kohlmaisbahn and promises pure flowline enjoyment with its high berms, tables, step-ups, and step-downs.

Monti-Trail

Perfect for making your first attempts on the trails. The Monti Trail is a beginner-friendly family trail with fun guaranteed and is just right for getting to grips with the new sport. Those who have already mastered their bike will also find one or two playful features here.

X-Line

The X-Line is the "boss" of the bike trails in Saalbach Hinterglemm. Anyone who dares to ride this line should have complete confidence in themselves and their bike, because root carpets and stone fields are not uncommon on this 6 km long, steep route. Real downhillers will find precisely the rough conditions they are looking for on this route.

Pro-Line

The Pro-Line is the great-grandfather of bike trails in Saalbach Hinterglemm. As the first downhill trail in the region, is far from outdated but receives regular facelifts, such as recently many new jumps and an improved course layout with multiple choices and Evil Eye features.

Hacklberg-Trail

Lay- wait for it! With its natural character and unique panorama, the Hacklberg Trail is THE must-ride trail in Saalbach Hinterglemm. With the Buchegg Trail that directly follows, which leads directly to the valley station of the Westgipfelbahn. From 2020 onwards, this results in an almost endless downhill run with over 1,000 metres of depth.

Bergstadl-Trail

Looking for technical, blocky single trails? You will find what you're looking for on the Bergstadl Trail! The hearts of technical bikers beat faster here. Hairpin bends, root passages and blocky stone fields are all on the menu on this challenging trail.

The Epic Bikepark Leogang

Hot Shots fired by GoPro

Airtime, airtime, airtime, and more airtime. These are the ingredients for the riding experience on the Hot Shots fired by GoPro! You want something fat ... Now we have it! A really fat pro-jumpline that belongs on every rider's bucket list!

Speedster

Mountain bike history has already been made on this UCI World Championship and World Cup course. With its steep and technical sections, and high-speed and off-camber passages, it is technically the most demanding line in the Epic Bikepark Leogang. A real challenge! Do you dare?

Steinberg Line by FOX

Built in 2019 and a tremendous success! Built for beginners and flow lovers. Ridden and loved by all! Starting at the Steinbergbahn mountain station, it meanders through the forest to the valley station with an average gradient of approx. 9%. Always in view: the beautiful panorama of the Leoganger Steinberge.

Flying Gangster

The classic! Built in 2001, but still young and snappy. Well-equipped with wall rides, jumps, tables with optional take-offs and drops provide fun and variety.

Bongo Bongo

The trail branches off halfway down the Flying Gangster and is an insider's tip. It snakes almost entirely through the forest into the valley via narrow curves, steps, root, stone passages, and North Shore elements. Good line choice and technique are required!

Antonius Trail

New in the Epic Bikepark Leogang family since 2019 and already a must. This unspoilt, narrow single trail is technically demanding, and the scenery is stunning.

Forsthof Trail

A trail away from the bike park! A fairy-tale landscape awaits you on the new Forsthof Trail! The hand-built single trail leads past high cliffs and crosses, numerous streams through coniferous and deciduous forests - pure riding fun on the 2-kilometre-long, natural route with many Northshore elements. Immerse your bike in a unique natural spectacle. The rock formations in the middle of the forest make you feel like you have landed on Middle Earth!

Matzalm Trail

The Matzalm Trail leads playfully through the forest over roots, rocks, and sometimes down narrow hairpin bends. Ferns, mosses, pristine giant trees, and lush Alpine meadows - experience pure nature!

Bike Area Fieberbrunn

Schweinstberg-Trail

For plenty of enjoyment, fun and flow, there is the new Schweinstberg trail (4 km/easy) from the middle station over a wooded mountain ridge back to the Streuböden valley station. After a short roll-in section, the trail branches off into the forest. North Shores, undulating passages, plenty of curves and wide lines will put a big grin on the faces of all newcomers and pleasure trailers!

Easy Park Obingleiten

For all those who have never been to a bike park before or would like to hone their technique, the Hänsn Line, and the Obing Line at the Streuböden valley station are ideal! Bike control and balance can be perfected on 20 to 25 hairpin bends peppered with wooden elements. The converted tellerlift takes you comfortably to the top. The new pump track is the biggest thing for the smallest bikers and a great opportunity for everyone else to warm up or work out.

Mountain bike tours featuring all degrees of difficulty

Leisurely tours and easy valley bike trails can be found in the cross-provincial bike region, as well as challenging marathon routes and full-day tours covering several peaks. The mountain bike trail network with hundreds of well-signposted tours is almost endless and with 9 state-of-the-art lifts including bike transport, Austria's largest bike region offers the perfect base camp for mountain bikers of all endurance levels.

If you are biking with children, you can make a detour here on foot to the educational Wildlife Trail. After that, a narrow hiking trail leads back downhill to the starting point. The trail is also suitable for children's bicycle trailers via the Lindlingalm to the Saalalm.

Gravel biking in the Alps

Gravel biking in Austria's largest bike region? The region, so far primarily known as a mountain bike destination, turns out to be an absolute insider tip for gravel bikers. The new discipline is the evolution of the cyclo-crosser and fits into the niche between road racing bikes and mountain bikes, delighting endurance cyclists who don't want to be limited by asphalt roads. A trend that is booming. As the first tourism region in the country, the destination now also dedicates itself to gravel racing bikes and thus places another stone in the mosaic of Austria's largest bike region.

Gravel biking stands for freedom, performance, adventure and fun. Far away from the asphalt roads, gravel biking becomes an experience that is as individual as the biker him or herself. Whether touring with baggage, fast off-road laps on gravel roads and forest paths or leisurely exploratory tours. Gravel biking is more of a lifestyle than a new, trendy discipline. And this lifestyle is now here.

The small but subtle difference between a gravel bike and a road racing bike.

While with a road bike, you are bound to asphalt roads, the less aggressive geometry and the profile of the tyres of a gravel bike mean freedom, riding pleasure, adventure and experiencing nature off the beaten track. The area around Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn is a true gravel road paradise with a wide variety of touring options.

E-MTB – pleasure biking & culinary delights

By gondola and E-Bike to the most beautiful summits of Saalbach Hinterglemm.

Saalbach Hinterglemm is considered a true biking El Dorado. 400 km of mountain bike trails, which are also available to E-bikers without restrictions, and over 40 huts with traditional culinary treats make the region the perfect destination for E-bikers. Marked routes and six lifts with bike transport offer the possibility to explore the mountain world effortlessly and enjoy the entire landscape.

Tour tip: Hochalm trail circuit in Saalbach

The Hochalm Trail is excellent for E-bikers or endurist riders! You can, but do not have to, take the Reiterkogel lift for the first part of the uphill section and save a few metres in altitude until you reach the trail entrance high above the Glemmtal valley. With small berms, stream crossings, hairpin bends, easy root and stone fields, there is something to suit every trail biker's taste. The trail ends in the picturesque Talschluss (end of the valley), from where you can cycle comfortably back to Hinterglemm. Tip: If you have some time left, you should plan a loop tour to the end of the Hinterglemm valley.

E-Bike pleasure tour in Saalfelden Leogang

Affectionately designed farm shops, a self-service station for organic vegetables and a schnapps distillery also produces gin and vodka. These are all stops on the E-Bike pleasure tour. The route is equally suitable for E-bike professionals as it is for beginners. The key thing is that cyclists have time to enjoy a delightful ride. There are plenty of bike services available in the area. By the way, a refreshing change to the numerous stops for enjoyment is a dip in the Ritzensee lake.

The culinary E-Mountainbike Tour round at Fieberbrunn

No matter how many gears a bike is equipped with, on the culinary E-bike Tour, three of them count first and foremost. Every Tuesday, one of the culinary tours starts. These tours are offered in several variations across the beautiful landscape of the Pillerseetal. Along the way, first-class KochArt restaurants of the region entice you, placing particular emphasis on seasonal and regional dishes. At the first stop, the starter and main course are served; at the second, the dessert. Don't worry, you can get back on your bike and shift up a gear! After all, you're on an E-bike, and enjoyment comes first! The guided tour, including a guide and 3-course menu, costs 49 Euros per person (excluding drinks and bike rental).

Bike & Hike Tour with a picnic at the Bergsee in Fieberbrunn

The early rise is worth it! And the tour to the Griesenbodenalm in Fieberbrunn is even more so. Equipped with a basket full of homemade products, you cycle to the glistening mountain lake nearby the Alpine pastures. Enjoy not only the genuine taste of homemade products but also the wonderful peace and tranquillity! Further along this tour, it is best to leave your bike at the Wildalmen. The Wildalm cheese shop offers cheese tasting. You can also purchase cheese and watch nostalgic tourism films and photographs from Fieberbrunn in the smallest cinema on the mountain. Thanks to electric support, your calves are still spared up here, and nothing stands in the way of a hike to the Wildseelodersee lake! It takes just under 30 minutes on foot to reach the legendary mountain lake, which is nestled between the peaks of Wildseeloder (2,118) and Henne (2,077).

THE CHALLENGE, bike your limit

"THE CHALLENGE - Bike your limit" is the name of the new mountain tour challenge in Austria's largest bike region that only the fittest can achieve. Who will manage to ride the entire area around Saalbach Hinterglemm Leogang Fieberbrunn in one day? You must conquer seven mountains in "THE CHALLENGE" with the help of seven lifts. Be prepared for sheer trail pleasure in Saalbach Hinterglemm and challenging bike park lines in Leogang. However, Fieberbrunn, known for its enjoyable biking, will make your calves burn on this tour.

You can start the tour in any of the three towns. If you start THE CHALLENGE in Saalbach, you can use the Schattberg X-press to get to the Schattberg Sprinter via the top trail section of the X-Line, which takes you to the start of the legendary Hacklberg Trail. If you start in Hinterglemm, you can use the Westgipfelbahn for the ascent. Via the Hacklberg Trail and Buchegg Trail, you will reach the 12-person KOGEL lift. The Z-Line leads from the middle station back down into the valley. After a few hundred metres through the centre of Hinterglemm, you come to the Reiterkogel lift, where the Blue or Pro Line is waiting for you. The cycle path leads you back to Saalbach and through the village centre to the Kohlmaisbahn. From the mountain station, you make your way along the Spielbergbach stream to Fieberbrunn, where your legs and stamina will be challenged, but you will be rewarded with an incomparable view of the stunning scenery. After you have taken the Streuböden gondola up to the middle station - which is also the starting point for your tour if you start in Fieberbrunn - The Schweinestberg Trail, newly built in the summer of 2021, awaits you and leads you back down into the valley. Once you have reached the bottom, you'll be faced with a 16 km long cycle path with 200 metres of elevation. "No challenge for me!" you say? It is because time is breathing down your neck to finish the whole tour on the same day. Arriving or starting in Leogang, you take the Asitzbahn up to the mountain station. If you arrive here in the early afternoon, you can count yourself among the fastest bikers in the region and even have time to complete one or two descents in the Epic Bikepark Leogang. Those who choose Leogang as their starting point for THE CHALLENGE should not spend too long in the bike park, however, as the tour can only be completed in just under a day. From the Asitzbahn mountain station, you must go up to the summit and over the rooted trail to Kohlmais. The flowing Panorama Trail and Monti Trail await you here. The end of the tour is your starting point, and if you were able to master THE CHALLENGE, you have well deserved an after-work beer. In the bike-friendly restaurants and bars, you can park your bike in sight without worrying and let the day come to an end.

Are you ready for the “THE CHALLENGE”?

Everyone who successfully completes THE CHALLENGE will receive a small reward at the valley stations of the lifts and will end up in the lottery draw for the following prizes at the end of the season:

- 1 x 1-week holiday in Austria's largest bike region incl. bike
- 2 x bike tickets for one week
- 3 x bike tickets for one day
